

Introduction: to our UNIQUE Agile Release Planning Workshop

April 8, 2024 — Joe Little

© Joseph Little 2024

Reminder

- I can send you a PDF of this slide deck...
- If I already have it connected to this webinar.
- ...OR, you add your email in the chat (or email it to me)

Agenda

1. Unique Agile Release Planning workshop
2. Workshop details
3. Information about Online

- Some quick basics
- Your questions
- Let's talk ~30 minutes

Agile Release Planning

- It's a key problem area.
- It is the start, and if you do not start well... it's messy.
- It is complex, but we simplify it to help you learn.
- In doing it, you learn key, absolutely key, basic skills.
- We make it real.

Benefits

- You can do it better!
 - At the high level and the low level
- You learn to teach it better!
- You can address key problems blocking Agile success
- You can use it to change the culture
- You get certified

ONE: The Unique Agile Release Planning workshop

Agile Release Planning

- “Agile Release Planning” is my name for a set of basic ideas and practices
- Key ideas:
 - Adaptive planning
 - Revise the plan continuously, as we get smarter
 - We always are missing a lot up-front.
 - Planning > Plan
 - But: The date is important.

We are Unique - 1

- Our approach is Unique
- We co-trained 8 times with Jeff Sutherland
- We took Ken Schwaber's CSM course initially in 2005
- We have an MBA
- We teach Agile Release Planning in our CSM and CSPO courses
- Almost every week we lead an Agile Release Planning workshop
- We have 20+ years of experience with all kinds of projects, but we are not a former coder or tester. Business viewpoint.

Unique - 2

- We are not a former coder or tester. Business viewpoint. MBA also.
- Follow-up via our free Webinars
- We have written two books:
 - Agile Release Planning
 - A Scrum Introduction
- We have two blogs:
 - on LeanAgileTraining.com
 - on LinkedIn
- We are positioned to help you become better
- We deal, better, with the specific issues at your place and in your situation

Workshop!

- Real work & right-sized
- A key difference...
- Real work from a company or organization
- Real work from one of the participants in your “Team” (of ~4 people)
- And real people in your new “Team”

Two formats

- 8 hours
- H-H or F
- Online or in-person

Two Types

- Given publicly nearly every week.
- OR: You can do it in-house - just for people in your team or your company.
- If you have 3 of your people in a public workshop, it has similar benefits.

Approaches

- Many, including...
- Personal
- Conversational
- Interactive
- Humorous
- Straight-forward
- Fun
- Engaging

Pieces - 1

- Vision
- User Stories
- Drivers
- BV Points
- Story Points
- ROI factor

Pieces - 2

- Other factors (for ordering)
- Using Velocity
- Laying out in Sprints
- Contingency
- Landing Strip (final testing, etc)
- Identify the first date
- Discuss evolution

Continual improvement

- PB Refinement (how to do it)
- Revising the Plan
- Changing the culture

Attitudes & Culture

- We have a plan (always revising)
- BUT KEY:
- We are changing the culture
- Changing the attitudes toward success, toward planning, toward pressure on the team, toward “the Plan”
- We are using the tools to have a better life

Results — 1

- We have some initial plays to audible from. (football metaphor)
- The team sees the same elephant.
- The team is more motivated (they helped create the plan).
- The team has shared the tacit knowledge.
- We can now prioritize our stupidity.
- We have an initial plan (always not very good) and we can improve.

Results — 2

- The people in the workshop don't just have new ideas — they also have an Agile experience.
- ARP is the best way to get the team ready to be successful.
- The ARP workshop is the best way to teach these key skill sets and to have them experience many of the Agile values.
- One example: They see with real work that we spend more time planning, but we never believe any plan. We always expect the future to be different.
- And they see that the next revised plan is likely to be better...

TWO: Workshop Details

Agile Release Planning workshop

- Real work
- Real work from one of the participants in your “Team” (or 4 people)
- PO is usually the person linked (most) to the real work

Better situation

- More than 1 “table” in the room
- All teams learn from each other

Comments

- You are very active with your Team, most of the time
- AND...plenty of opportunity to ask questions
- Questions often in the form of:
“How do I get my team to do [X]...?”

Attendees say...

- Should be required
- Essential
- This is when everything came together for me
- Now I can do agile!

- Learning by doing
- Attendees strongly recommend

In-House

- We also do the ARP workshop as an in-house workshop
- Contact me to discuss

Date/Time: We can negotiate

- Open to your proposals of date, esp. if you have 3+ people
- Open to start at different times
- (I usually do 8:30 - 5:30 — or 8:30 - 12:30 —but open to your needs)
- Contact me!

Sign-up

- You can sign up easily online here (and see the schedule):
- <https://leanagiletraining.com/lean-agile-and-scrum-courses/>
- The next in-person workshop, Charlotte, April 11:
- <https://leanagiletraining.com/courses/agile-release-planning-charlotte-2024-0411/>
- The next online workshop:
- <https://leanagiletraining.com/courses/arp-2024-0502/>

Links:

- If you want a workshop on a given date, tell us. We hope to accommodate you.
- Each workshop listing on LAT has some more details.
- Another Write-up (you will see one on this page):
- <https://leanagiletraining.com/lean-agile-and-scrum-courses/scrum-and-agile-course-descriptions/>

THREE: Online

Online

- Some courses/workshops are online
 - We are also doing in-person workshops
- We recommend the Half-day format. (It's tough to be on Zoom all day)
- Sometimes Half-day fits families better (eg, baby sitting) — or doing other work that same day
- We also offer Full-day format (for those who need/prefer that)

Online Tools

- Zoom for now
- Break-out rooms
- mural.co - an online simultaneous collaboration platform
 - Mainly for “stickies”
 - “Steal” it for your remote team
- Hand drawn pictures and notes. Via Good Notes app on iPad Pro with Apple pencil. Will send as PDF.

FOUR: Discussion / Questions

Benefits

- You can do it better!
 - At the high level and the low level
- You can teach it better!
- You can address key problems blocking Agile success
- You can use it to change the culture
- You get certified.

Our Webinars

- Two types:
 - About our courses and workshops (30 mins)
 - About agile topics, or ideas to improve (60 mins)
- You are welcome to BOTH. Both free.

Next Webinars Sessions...

- What is the best topic for a future session?
- You can suggest...
- Please contact me with suggestions.
jhlittle@leanagiletraining.com
- Next Webinars (free):
- <https://leanagiletraining.com/lean-agile-and-scrum-courses/>
- MEETUP:
- https://www.meetup.com/lat_webinars/

CLOSING

- Thank you!
- I'm always happy to discuss further.

Joseph Little

LeanAgileTraining.com

info@leanagiletraining.com

(704) 376-8881

